THE DRAPER CAMERA

The first camera in America and the first fast-action camera in the world was developed by John W. Draper (Professor of Chemistry, 1836-1839) while at Hampden-Sydney. Created from in-depth scientific and cooperative research and a cigar box, the camera is on display in the front gallery of the Museum. By using the camera and a departmental telescope, Draper probably took the first astronomical photographs ever made. After leaving Hampden-Sydney College to become a professor at New York University Medical College, Draper was able to take the world's first true portrait of a living person, in the fall of 1839.

THE SWORD OF LATANÉ

Also on display are the officer's sword and scabbard belonging to Captain William Latané, Class of 1853 (in Hampden-Sydney's Medical Department). His death in the Civil War Battle of Old Church inspired a poem by John R. Thompson and monumental artwork by William Dickenson Washington; engravings of Washington's iconic painting became popular throughout the South.

He was U.S. Ambassador to NATO (2001-2005) and to Greece (1997-2001) and State Department Spokesman (1995-1997). He worked for five years (1990-1995) on the National Security Council at the White House when he was senior director for Russia, Ukraine, and Eurasia Affairs and special assistant to President Clinton and, before that, director for Soviet Affairs in the administration of President George H. W. Bush. Burns also served in the American Consulate General in Jerusalem from 1985 to 1987, where he coordinated U.S. economic assistance to the Palestinian people in the West Bank and before that, at the American embassies in Egypt and Mauritania. ## RECIPIENT OF HONORARY DEGREE

BRIAN K. BLOUNT

Doctor of Divinity

Brian K. Blount is president of Union Presbyterian Seminary in Richmond, the former Union Theological Seminary and Presbyterian School of Christian Education. Union Seminary traces its roots to the religion department of Hampden-Sydney College; in 2011 it is celebrating the bicentennial of its independent foundation here on the Hill in 1811. Venable Hall, in front of which the commencement ceremony takes place, was its original home.

Before Dr. Blount came to Union Seminary, he was the Richard J. Dearborn Professor of New Testament Interpretation at Princeton Theological Seminary (which was founded by Hampden-Sydney's third president, Archibald Alexander) from 1992 to 2007; before that he was pastor of the Carver Memorial Presbyterian Church in Newport News, Virginia, from 1982 to 1988.

Among his academic interests are the study of the Synoptic gospels and the Book of Revelation, as well as the cultural interpretation of biblical texts.

He holds a bachelor of arts degree from the College of William and Mary, a master's of divinity from Princeton Theological Seminary (where he received the Elder Garnet Hawkins Award for Scholastic Excellence in 1981), and a Ph.D. from Emory University.

In the course of his distinguished career, he was recognized as a Distinguished Alumnus by the Emory University Graduate Division of Religion in 2004.

New College was the result of the crusading fund-raising efforts of President Jonathan Cushing; it is now named in his honor. Begun in 1822 and completed in 1833, it replaced the 18th-century buildings and set a new north-south orientation for the campus. This woodcut, the earliest known image of Hampden-Sydney College, appears in Henry Howe's "Historical Collections of Virginia" (1845); the drawing probably dates to his visit in 1843.

By order of the committee,
JOHN PENDLETON, Junior, Clik.
 It is expected that such members of the House of Burgesses as are convenient will meet at the Capitol in Williamsburg, on Thursday the 11th of October, in order to adjourn to some future day.

---

An ACADEMY.
 PRINCE EDWARD, Sept. 1, 1775.
 BY the generous Exertions of several Gentlemen in this and some of the neighbouring Counties, very large Contributions have lately been made for erecting and supporting a public ACADEMY near the Courtthouse in this County. Their Zeal for the Interests of Learning and Virtue has met with such Success, that they were enabled to let the Buildings in March last to several Undertakers, who are proceeding in their Work with the greatest Expedition. A very valuable Library of the best Writers, both ancient and modern, on most Parts of Science and polite Literature, is already procured; with Part of an Apparatus to facilitate the Studies of the Mathematicks and Natural Philosophy, which we expect in a short Time to render complete.—The Academy will certainly be opened on the 10th of next November: It is to be distinguished by the Name of HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, and will be subject to the Visitation of twelve Gentlemen of Character and Influence in their respective Counties; the immediate and acting Members being chiefly of the Church of England. The Number of Visitors and Trustees will probably be increased as soon as the Distractions of the Times shall so far cease as to enable its Patrons to enlarge its Foundations.—The Students will all board and study under the same Roof, provided for by a common Steward, except such as choose to take their Boarding in the Country. The Rates, at the utmost, will not exceed 10*l.* Currency per Annum to the Steward, and 4*l.* Tuition Money; 20*s.* of this being always paid at Entrance.
 The System of Education will resemble that which is adopted in the College of New Jersey, save, that a more particular Attention shall be paid to the Cultivation of the English Language than is usually done in Places of public Education. Three Masters and Professors are ready to enter in November, and as many more may be easily procured as the increased Number of Students may at any Time hereafter require. And our Prospects at present are so extremely flattering that it is probable we shall be obliged to procure two Professors more before the Expiration of the Year. The Public may rest assured that the Whole shall be conducted on the most catholic Plan. Parents, of every Denomination, may be at full Liberty to require their Children to attend on any Mode of Worship which either Custom or Conscience has rendered most agreeable to them. For our Fidelity, in every Respect, we are cheerfully willing to pledge our Reputation to the Public; which may be the more relied on, because our whole Success depends upon their favourable Opinion. Our Character and Interest, therefore, being both at Stake, furnish a strong Security for our avoiding all Party Instigations; for our Care to form good men, and good Citizens, on the common and universal Principles of Morality, distinguished from the narrow Tenets which form the Complexion of any Sect; and for our Assiduity in the whole Circle of Education.
SAMUEL S. SMITH.
P. S. The principal Building of the Academy not being yet completed, those Gentlemen who desire their Children to enter immediately will be obliged to take Lodgings for them in the Neighbourhood, during the Winter Season; which may be done in Houses sufficiently convenient, on very reasonable Terms. 4.
WAS left at the Subscriber's, in Fredericksburg, in 1773, a very large STILL-TUB and WORM, marked JH, N<sup>o</sup> 1. The Owner is desired to take it away, and pay all Charges. J. JACOB WHITLER.
 SOUTH RIVER, Augusta County, Sept. 20. 1777.

In this advertisement of September 1, 1775, founding president Samuel Stanhope Smith declared the College's enduring mission: "to form good men and good citizens."

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The pageantry and dress of the academic procession have been inherited from the medieval universities of the 11th and 12th centuries. Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages, first in the Church, then in the guilds. In the teaching guild the master of arts was the teacher and the bachelor was the apprentice of the master; their dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility.

Principal features of academic dress are the gown, the cap, and the hood. Since the 15th century, both Cambridge and Oxford have made academic dress a matter of university control, even to its minor details, and have repeatedly published revised regulations. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895. In 1932 the American Council on Education presented a revised code which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today.

The Gown: The flowing gown comes from the 12th century. While it originally may have been worn as a protection against the cold of unheated buildings, today it has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress of rank or social standing. It is black for all degrees, with pointed sleeves for the bachelor's degree, long closed sleeves with a slit at the arm or wrist for the master's degree, and full bell double sleeves for the doctor's degree. Bachelor's and master's degree gowns have no trimming. For the doctor's degree, the gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline to which the degree pertains.

The Cap: Under Roman law a freed slave won the privilege of wearing a cap. The academic cap is a sign of freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize a book. The color of the tassel sometimes denotes the discipline of the degree.

The Doctoral Hood: The doctoral hood is trimmed with one or more chevrons of a second color on the ground of a primary color. The color facing the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining designates the university or college from which the degree was granted.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE

Hampden-Sydney College's heritage is deeply rooted in the history of both Colonial America and the Presbyterian Church. The founders of the College chose the name Hampden-Sydney to symbolize their devotion to the principles of representative government and full civil and religious freedom which John Hampden (1594-1643) and Algernon Sydney (1622-1683) had outspokenly supported, and for which they had given their lives, in England's two great constitutional crises of the seventeenth century. They were widely invoked as heroes by American colonial patriots, and their names were immediately associated with the cause of independence championed by James Madison, Patrick Henry, and other less well-known, but equally vigorous, patriots among the College's early Trustees. Indeed, the original students eagerly committed themselves to the revolutionary effort, organized a militia company, drilled regularly, and went off to the defense of Williamsburg and of Petersburg, in 1777 and 1778 respectively. Their uniform of hunting shirts—dyed purple with the juices of pokeberries—and grey trousers prefigured the College's traditional colors, garnet and grey.

First proposed in 1771, the College was formally organized in February 1775, when the Presbytery of Hanover, meeting in Nathaniel Venable's Slate Hill plantation (about two miles south of the present campus), accepted a gift of one hundred acres for the College, elected Trustees, and named as Rector (later President) the Rev. Mr. Samuel Stanhope Smith, valedictorian of the Princeton class of 1769, who had been actively promoting the idea of establishing a college in the heavily Scotch-Irish area of south-central Virginia since he began his ministry there in 1772. Within only ten months, Smith, intending to model the new college after his own alma mater, secured an adequate subscription of funds and an enrollment of 110 students. Students and faculty began gathering in the fall of 1775; the first classes were held on November 10. The College completed its first full year in 1776 and has never suspended operations.

In 1783, Hampden-Sydney's viability, severely tested by the Revolutionary War, was ensured by the grant of a charter from the General Assembly of Virginia. Union Theological Seminary of Virginia (1822) was founded at Hampden-Sydney and occupied the south end of the present campus for some seventy-five years before relocating to Richmond. The Medical College of Virginia was established (1837) at Richmond as the medical department of Hampden-Sydney.

The College matured physically and academically through the first half of the nineteenth century, enjoying the services of some remarkably gifted leaders. Jonathan P. Cushing, a Dartmouth man and the first layman to be president, oversaw the abandonment of the College's original buildings in favor of the handsome Federal architecture which still distinguishes the campus. The world-renowned chemist, Dr. John W. Draper, built the first camera in America and used it to take the world's first astronomical photographs while he was a professor at Hampden-Sydney from 1836 to 1839; he later took the first photograph of a living person.

During the Civil War the students organized a company, with President J. M. P. Atkinson as captain. Officially named the "Hampden-Sydney Boys," they saw action only in the battle of Rich Mountain (June 10-11, 1861); captured as a body, they were paroled by General McClellan on the condition that they lay down their arms and return to their studies.

After the Seminary moved to Richmond in 1898, a most generous alumnus, Major R. M. Venable, bought its buildings and gave them to the College.

Throughout the twentieth century, handsome and practical buildings (among them, most recently, as a result of a successful campaign that raised over $100 million, a new 83,000-square-foot library, a new stadium, and an expanded athletic center) have been added to the campus, while Hampden-Sydney's academic, social, and cultural programs have been continually enriched and expanded, strengthening the coherent tradition of liberal arts education which remains the hallmark of the College. Its success in forging good men and leaders is widely recognized.

Hampden-Sydney looks into its third century with a wholesome optimism, bred of a sober integrity of mission coupled with a history of sound development, and made possible by an extraordinary succession of leaders and benefactors of rare ability, commitment, and vision.

THE COLLEGE SYMBOLS

THE COLLEGE SEAL

The Hampden-Sydney College seal symbolically combines liberty, religion, and academics—all essential elements in the formula for a successful college career.

In 1783, the Trustees ordered a corporate seal for Hampden-Sydney, “to be engraved with proper devices,” for use on its diplomas; the die for the seal was first engraved in 1784. The seal is a circle divided into three sections: an upper half and two lower quadrants. Although the figures within the seal have been changed somewhat since the original, the symbolism still exists. In the lower right-hand quadrant, an orator preaches; in the lower left-hand quadrant, a man kneels on a rock in front of an open book (originally the word “Liberty” appeared below the book, but has since been deleted). In the top half of the seal, on the right, there is a table with books and, on the left, a rolled diploma and pendant seal.

Samuel Stanhope Smith, the founding president of the College, explicitly claimed that he was basing its course of education on that of the College of New Jersey (now Princeton University), the alma mater of the first two presidents, the first faculty members, and some early Trustees. There is considerable evidence that he also modeled the Hampden-Sydney seal after the College of New Jersey seal, with significant additions like the word “Liberty”—a gesture consistent with Smith’s choice of revolutionary eponyms for the institution.

THE COAT OF ARMS

Through the generosity of the F. M. Kirby Foundation, Inc., the College was granted an authentic coat of arms and other armorial bearings from the College of Arms, an office of the Royal Household, as part of the College’s bicentennial celebration in 1972-1976. The Kirby Foundation has designated the Achievement of Arms a gift in honor of Professor John L. Brinkley ’59, who was the liaison with Mr. John Brooke-Little, the Richmond Herald, in designing the arms.

On either side of the shield are two blue pheons (spearheads) against a gold background; this feature is from the Sydney arms. At top and bottom are blue eagles against a silver background; this feature is from the Hampden arms. The Hampden and Sydney quarters are separated by a red saltire—a St. Andrew’s cross—representing the Church of Scotland, the spiritual parent of Presbyterianism. In the middle is an open Bible with the Greek words of John 8:32: “Ye shall know the truth.”

With understated irony, the Latin text of the Letters Patent conferring the arms is dated July 4, 1976, and Mr. Brooke-Little, who with the Queen’s special permission appeared in full herald’s uniform, made the presentation on Yorktown Day, October 19, 1976. (The Letters Patent are on display in the Atkinson Museum of Hampden-Sydney.)

The Presidential Medallion, worn around the neck as a symbol of office, is a reproduction in bronze of the coat of arms, surrounded by a banner with the words “Hampden-Sydney College” and the date “1776.”

THE HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE HYMN

Here's to old Hampden-Sydney,
The Garnet and the Grey,
And her sons by the thousands
Who revere her name today.

Our old alma mater,
We'll e'er be true to thee
And we'll spread with song and story
The fame of H-SC!
