

II. ORGANIZATION OF THE COLLEGE

The College is governed by a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees. The names of the Trustees are listed in the current Academic Catalogue. The names of the administrative officers and the assignment of their responsibilities are listed in the Employee Handbook.

A. Faculty Positions

1. Regular, full-time faculty appointments are to the ranks of Instructor, Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor. All persons appointed to these positions are eligible for tenure or are tenured. All are also appointed to a department, or departments, or programs of the College. All have a vote in general faculty meetings.
2. Special, part-time, and visiting appointments are to the following ranks:
Lecturer: A title given one appointed on a semester or yearly contract to give a series of lectures or courses in a given professional field; appointee is not eligible for tenure.
Visiting Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor: A full-time appointment, for no more than six years; appointee is not eligible for tenure.

Part-time appointments at the Assistant, Associate, or full Professor level: An open-ended appointment, with or without stipend, of a person of substantial professional calibre who is given a semester or yearly contract to teach a course or series of courses; appointee is not eligible for tenure.

Faculty members holding these special, part-time visiting appointments do not have a vote in general faculty meetings, except that the privilege to vote is granted to faculty members holding appointment as Senior Lecturer by virtue of length of service. (See III.D.)

Faculty members holding these special, part-time visiting appointments are eligible for fringe benefits if they teach at least 11 contact hours per year.

B. Faculty Organization

Subject to the approval of the Trustees, or their committees, “the Faculty (i) shall have responsibility for the content, quality, and effectiveness of the curriculum, as well as requirements for entrance to and graduation from the College, (ii) shall have responsibility for the academic quality of any course work or credit recorded on the institution’s transcript, (iii) shall, through the President, recommend to the Board of Trustees those students upon whom it desires to confer degrees, (iv) shall have responsibility for establishing and recommending each year’s academic calendar to the Board of Trustees and (v) shall, in consultation with the President and Provost/Dean of the Faculty, develop such policies that protect academic freedom and contribute to the best possible environment for the Faculty to teach, pursue their scholarship, and participate in the College community.” (Bylaw Article XV, ¶ 4). In addition, “the Faculty shall have jurisdiction over all matters of discipline that may result in a student's separation from the College, such separation being subject to final determination on appeal to the Executive Committee of the Trustees” (Bylaw Article XV, ¶ 5).

The Faculty meets on the second Monday in September and on the first Monday of each following month during the academic year to hear reports of committees and to take official actions (except for the regular May meeting, which, at the discretion of the President or the Dean of the Faculty, may take place on one of the last two Mondays of April). If the first Monday of a month coincides with fall break or spring break, then that month’s meeting of the Faculty will be held on the second Monday of the month. A quorum is defined as a majority of all voting members. Additional faculty meetings may be called when the President, the Dean of the Faculty, or the Faculty thinks a useful purpose would be served. If there is no objection by a faculty member, the President or the Dean of the Faculty may cancel a faculty meeting because of insufficient business or inclement weather. The President or his designee normally chairs all regular faculty meetings. If the chairman is absent or vacates the chair for any reason, the chair is taken temporarily by the next eligible officer, in the following order of priority: President, Dean of the Faculty, Associate Dean of the Faculty, Clerk of the Faculty. If the Clerk is absent, the chair will appoint a clerk pro tempore. The duration of faculty meetings cannot exceed one and one-half hours without a vote to suspend the rules. The rules contained in the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised shall govern Faculty meetings in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with this Handbook or any special rules of order the Faculty may adopt. All full-time faculty members under regular appointment are eligible to vote. The privilege to vote is also granted to faculty members holding appointment as Senior Lecturer by virtue of length of service.

Special meetings may be called by the President or the Dean of the Faculty. Such meetings may also be called upon the written request of a quorum of the Faculty. One week’s written notice (except in cases of dire emergency) of any special meeting must be given. The notice must state the subject of the special meeting, and the business of the special meeting must be restricted to the stated subject.

1. Faculty Committees: The Faculty has organized itself into committees in order to expedite carrying out its responsibilities. The changes in membership of these committees and of other offices are determined each year at the regular April meeting of the Faculty, the special order for which shall be the elections for committee members and officers. Changes take effect on the first of July of that year. Additional committees, both standing and special, may be created by administrative or Faculty initiative, as circumstances require. Each faculty committee is to convene early in each new academic year for the purpose of organizing and setting the time for its meetings. The Chair should provide members with an agenda several days prior to each meeting, and the secretary should distribute copies of the minutes to each member (including the President and Dean of the Faculty, who are ex officio members of all faculty committees). In the event that a member of the faculty who serves on a faculty committee or as Clerk of the Faculty, or as representative to the Board of Trustees, the President's Council, or the NCAA should become unable to fulfill the duties of the position (by illness, resignation, or other circumstance), the President of the College may appoint a substitute pro tempore until a special election can be held.

The standing committees of the Faculty are:

- a. Academic Affairs Committee: (The Committee may establish sub-committees and ad hoc committees for purpose definite to report to it. The three divisional representatives constitute the Executive Committee of the Faculty, which takes emergency actions on behalf of the Faculty and approves the minutes of regular May Faculty meetings and any special meetings held between the regular May meeting and the summer recess.)
