

Modern Languages – Minors 2017-18

DEPARTMENT CHAIR: Dr. Julia E. Palmer, Bagby 316, (434) 223-6213

Please note that departmental contact is strongly recommended to further aid your academic planning. Irregularities in offerings do occur as a result of sabbaticals and medical leaves.

A minor in a modern language requires 18 credit hours in the language at the 300- and 400-level. Three to six (3-6) credit hours of study at an approved institution in a foreign country in which the language is spoken are strongly recommended-- plan accordingly! The Office of Global Education can help you with this planning and is conveniently located on the 2nd floor of Bagby Hall.

Important information for MoLa students:

- A major or minor in a foreign language is a value added to your chosen career path. In fact, as a college graduate, you will be more likely to use a foreign language in America. Interested students should start foreign language classes in their freshman year.
- When choosing a course, select courses that will enhance your language skills first! Be sure to read carefully the pre-requisites and the skill levels required. A 301 course is NOT necessarily easier than a 305 course.
- Do not take a 400-level course in your first year of the minor, unless advised by your instructor, advisor, or Department chair.
- Minors are encouraged to strike a balance among courses on language, culture, and literature.
- Minors should consider applying to be a resident of a Language House, join the Foreign Language Honors Society and Language Clubs and participate in the Conversation Table for Advanced Students.
